

LIFE & SOUL OF THE PARTY

IT ALL HAPPENS DOWNSTAIRS!

The Spice of Life has an esteemed musical heritage. In the 1960's and 1970's The Scots Hoose (as it was called then) was a popular venue for folk musicians, and saw many great acts of the time, such as Bob Dylan, Paul Simon, Cat Stevens, Bert Jansch, The Strawbs and Sandy Denny performing here.

Then in the heyday of punk in the late 70's The Spice of Life became a regular haunt for many punk musicians and followers, including The Sex Pistols.

In the late 90's, a thriving Jazz Club started up at The Spice, and has attracted many top acts, such as Jamie Cullum, Soweto Kinch, Darius Brubeck and Daryl Sherman. Because here, variety continues to be The Spice of Life.

If you're looking for some exciting live entertainment, just head to our iconic Backstage Bar in the cellar.
